Solution Description:

Hi there,

advs cust not prohibited from applying advs all offences are considered on a case-by-case basis, cannot say if application would be granted or declined

I am considering applying for an I endorsement licence with a view to becoming a driving instructor.

There is a bump on my history that will show I was convicted of a DIC charge in, I think it was 2004.

Before I apply for a check I am curious to inquire as to whether this conviction will go against me when applying for an I endorsement?
Would appreciate your advice here please.
