I have gone back through my emails and found an 'assessment' email from WCC saying everything is fine after the crossing had been in for a while, but provides no data to support this - I understand Emma went back asking for this evidence, but I haven't seen that - I have gone back to Emma (who is back on deck this week) to see if she ever got a response.

Your advice on if we should meet with Greg this week before Nic leaves and talk this through with him given the above extra information over our last discussion. Nic thought my potted history without the attachments, with a couple of extra lines detailing the legal response and remaining outstanding issues would be enough for a briefing for Gregg before a it down.

Cheers, GB
