588	Kelvin Lloyd	Dynes Carrying Company Limited	Compliance	Further Investigation	Kelvin Lloyd	15/02/2019	Discussed at triage on 14/02/19. This case was initially raised after concerns over potential 'cultural' attitudes towards worktime rules within the company after a fatal crash involving their vehicles in 2018. Action had been taken against the driver including suspension of his HMY licences and at his work time generally, but there had not been a review of the company to see whether there were deeper systemic issues. A desktop review was conducted and the results are outlined in the cover of this case. It was found the company was generally compliant with minimal work time issues found during a significant number of RID stops by police. In all other areas the company was highly compliant, and compared favorably when compared to similar companies. s9(2)(h) The driver has subsequently entered guilty pleas to the charges he faced. s9(2)(h)

Background

Name of operator – Dynes Transport Tapanui Limited – s18(c)(i)
Directors – Peter James William Dynes & Brent Esler
Shareholders – Dynes Heritage Ltd & H W Richardson Group Ltd 50/50

Although Dynes Transport Tapanui Ltd have been operating since 1969 the joint venture between Dynes and the Richardson Group was formed in late 2016.

Fleet size

According to the Tasking Tool reports the fleet stands at 410 units with biennial vehicle kilometres travelled (VKT) of 19,500,000 kms.

Previous Interventions

There are eleven case files for Dynes recorded in DLR all detailing low level interaction with the company for various reasons.

Comparison

I have quickly compared Dynes with Southland based company s9(2)(b)(ii) who are currently a 4 Star operator with an overall score of .741.

They have a fleet of 317 units with a biennial VKT of 18,520,000 kms. Their offending history is as follows.

Total Offences - 131

Abridged breakdown

Speed Camera Offences - 51
Speed - 19
Logbooks/Driving hours - 13

Notes

Dynes for some time have been transferring speed camera tickets out of the company name into the name of the responsible driver which possibly could explain their very low rate of recorded offending in this area.

It appears that the Person in Control details need updating on our system with Peter Dynes' s9(2)(a) being the only person listed as a person in control of the service.

The attached papers have been compiled in respect of Dynes Transport Limited. This matter was raised as a company that potentially was a risk following a fatal motor vehicle crash on the Desert Road on 30 March 2018. The apparent at fault driver was John Barber, who has subsequently been charged with eight offences, including Careless Use Causing Death, Careless Use Causing Injury and a number of work time and log book matters. He has entered not guilty pleas and a date for trial has yet to be finalised (refer attached Stuff report).

The circumstances of the crash are normally covered by Police in a Summary of Facts. The Agency has requested a copy of the summary from Police but this has not yet been forwarded. What is believed to have occurred is that two truck and trailer units operated by Dynes Transport Limited were travelling in the same direction on the Desert Road during the afternoon of 30 March. One of the trucks has stopped or slowed, and has had a passenger vehicle travelling behind it slow or stop. The truck driven by Barber has apparently come over a hill or brow of a hill and ran into the rear of the passenger car, killing two children that were in the vehicle and seriously injuring several others. Reports indicated that two passenger cars and two trucks were involved, however exact details have not been ascertained by the Agency at this stage.

Barber was investigated by Agency staff in August 2018, in respect of his Classes 2 - 5 licences. The investigating Central North Island CTO referred this file to their manager with a recommendation that revocation be considered. This was endorsed by the manager and the file referred to the Adjudication team for consideration. Papers were served on Barber in September and the proposal awaiting any appeal he may lodge.

However, at this stage, little enquiry has been made in respect of the Dynes Company. Initial concerns were around whether there were 'cultural' issues that allowed work time breaches to occur by drivers and management, given the charges faced by Barber, and whether a compliance review was needed with an emphasis on work time rule compliance.

The attached papers have been prepared in respect of assessment. On the face of it, Dynes Transport is a relatively compliant company. In general, log book and work time breaches are detected by Police through Commercial Vehicle Safety Team roadside enforcement action. When one looks at the breakdown of offences relating to this type of offending, the companies offending rate (drivers) is extremely low (nine offences over a two year period). It is also relevant to consider the number of RID checks (353 over two years) and the kilometres travelled by their vehicles over that same two year period (19,500,000 kms over a fleet of 410 units).

CTO Greg Sims has also made a very brief comparison with a similar size company and outlined the offending from that company. Dynes Transport, again is arguably compliant.

A very brief analysis provides some comfort that would support the proposition that this case is arguably an isolated one. It is of interest that Police have opted not to look further at the company as part of their investigation.

Please peruse the attached papers and assess whether you consider further investigation warranted.

Thanks.

Recommendation Memo

From: MC: Alysha McClintock | Katia Fraser

Date: 8 October 2018

Subject: Dynes Transport Tapanui Limited

1 Brief overview of concern

- 1.1 John Baptiste Barber, a driver for Dynes Transport Tapanui Limited, was involved in a fatal motor vehicle accident where two children were killed. Mr Barber has been charged with eight offences, including careless use causing death, careless use causing injury and a number of work time and log book offences. He has pleaded not guilty and the matter has yet to be set down for trial. Mr Barber was investigated by the Agency in August 2018 in respect to his class 2-5 licences. He has been suspended (confirmed by a report from Adjudicator Karen McArthur) and his licence either has been or will be considered for revocation.
- 1.2 The Agency wanted to assess whether there were “cultural” issues within the company given the fact Mr Barber was charged with offences relating to worktime and log books. The Agency has made an assessment of the company off the roadside inspection and CoF compliance data, together with any known worktime and logbook offending and considers it to be relatively compliant. The company has an extremely low record for log book and work time breaches (nine offences over a two year period) given the size of its fleet (417 units). The company when assessed by its roadside inspection results and CoF results has very high pass rates:
- (a) Roadside inspections – 92.4% pass rate;
 - (b) Certificate of fitness inspections – 99.3% pass rate;
 - (c) Traffic offences – 97 offences in a two year period; and
 - (d) ORS Rating – 5 stars;

Truck driver charged over Desert Road crash which killed two children pleads not guilty

Benn Bathgate · 15:01, Aug 23 2018

ROBERT STEVEN/STUFF

John Baptiste Barber leaves Taupō District Court on Thursday. He faces eight charges in total, including careless driving causing two deaths.

A truck driver facing charges over a Desert Road crash that left two children dead can now be named as John Baptiste Barber.

Barber, 70, appeared at the Taupō District Court on Thursday.

Barber faces eight charges in total, including two of operating a vehicle carelessly causing death and two of operating a vehicle carelessly causing injury.

The remaining charges relate to falsified logbooks, exceeding work hours and failure to have 10 hours of continuous rest.

He has pleaded not guilty to the charges, requesting a judge-alone trial which is expected to last two days and hear from 11 witnesses. A date for that hearing is yet to be set.

Arteen died at the scene and Radeen died at Auckland's Starship Hospital two days later from his injuries.

Their mother, Dr Mohadeseh Sharifi, a scientist for AgResearch in Hamilton, was left with serious injuries and spent weeks in Waikato Hospital while their father, Siamek Mosaferi, suffered moderate injuries.

Barber's defence lawyer told the court he had requested a traffic assessor report which he expected to be completed by November 9.

He said a number of issues "could well be resolved" by the report.

Judge Marie McKenzie, however, was scathing about the proposed timeline.

"[That's] an extraordinary amount of time for an expert report to be available," she said.

"[I am] definitely not prepared to adjourn to a date in November ... the expert is not going to dictate our timeframes."

Barber was remanded until a case review in September.
