Note:
 The data presented in this figure was collected in an opt-in survey, where respondents were asked to share their most significant cycle tour from the three years prior to September 2018. These maps show where individual respondents rode. While many respondents indicated they cycled in pairs or larger groups, the latter are not included in the data presented, and it is also likely that most respondents did other cycle tours during this time period. These maps, therefore, under-represent the number of tours by individuals undertaken in the three years prior to September 2018.
