Waihī to Ōmokoroa

Thank you for your messages of support

Thank you for fixing our roads. I always give a wave to them when I'm traveling and thank you all for risking your lives for our safety and you all done an awesome job on our roads.

Imagine being angry that the roads are **** then being angry at the people who are fixing them.

You guys bring families together via the roads through the roughest weather conditions, you are unsung heroes in my book, stay safe with your whānau.

When I wave to the workers or do the "eyebrows to the sky" as I'm going past, I'm saying "thank you for working hard, appreciate you".
